paul rainger | my cv

covering letter

I have been working as a full time graphic designer for the past 8 years. I have worked for three in-house design agencies and one city centre design agency. I have produced a variety of work for many clients including Merseyside Police, Liverpool City Council, Merseyside Ambulance and Liverpool Community College. I currently am working as head designer for a large 40 million pound company in the North West.

My relevant qualifications include a BTEC in Graphic Design and a HND in Graphic Design with Distinction. I have also taken an evening course in Dreamweaver at Wirral Metropolitan College.

Working in fast-paced and often pressured environments has allowed me to develop my software skills in Adobe Creative Suite ie Illustrator, In-Design, Photoshop, Acrobat Professional, Acrobat Distiller as well as Quark Xpress.

I have developed many communication and organisational skills. I can work on my own initiative and deal with clients on a one to one basis. I can also work within a team when needed. I have trained junior members of staff in software application.

I understand the need to be flexible when dealing with a client's requirements. I perform duties such as holding meeting with clients to communicating their ideas and talking to various printers over artwork specifications.

I am conscientious and passionate about my work. I have very high standards with particular attention to detail. This often leads me to develop my client's or team members ideas.

I love the challenge of interpreting a brief correctly and working with the client to achieve that brief. Design is my passion!

effective health care RESEARCH CONSORTIUM

PARTNER LOCATIONS | BLOGGER | COCHRANE REVIEWS

welcome

Evidence-based health care has undergone a revolution over the last 10 years. The science to synthesise research has developed. The Cochrane Collaboration and others are preparing reliable summaries of research about the effects of care, and policy makers and clinicians are drawing on those reliable reviews in decision making.

The Effective Health Care Research Consortium focus on two main areas:

- Reliable, up-to-date, scientifically defensible and relevant evidence in malaria and tuberculosis, child health, maternal health, and health systems.
- Effective dialogue and influence between research, policy, and practice communities in public and private sector.

The Consortium activities include:

- Preparing and updating Cochrane Reviews about the effects of health care relevant to low-income and middle-income countries.
- Identifying approaches to ensure dissemination and use of the results of the results of systematic reviews in decision making.

“ To increase the number of decisions relating to the health sector that are based on reliable evidence ”
